

Seminar on How to Write an Email

The English Foundation Department organised its first seminar to teach students in the Foundation Program how to write an email. Ms Samira Jafar from the English Foundation Department demonstrated the essential elements of an email. These seminars are crucial for the newly enrolled students to help them learn how to correctly deliver their questions and concerns to academics.