

Cambridge University Press Webinar Collaboration

English Language Department

As KCST passionately pursues its goal of becoming a leading university in the region, its English Department also strives to establish itself as a local and regional powerhouse in the services it provides. With that goal in mind, on Dec 7, 2020 we organized a very successful online symposium in collaboration with Cambridge University Press and Cambridge Assessment English, which addressed the present state of online education and suggested viable solutions and alternatives to dealing with many logistic and academic challenges caused by the pandemic. The sheer number of participants and attendees was the best indicator to the positive impact it had in Kuwait and beyond.

In addition to organizing such an accomplished event, the English Department was also a major contributor to the workshops and presentations on that day. Our esteemed colleagues – including Dr. Reem Al Qenai (HOD), Mr. Abdullah Al Farhan, Mr. Fares Al Shammari, Ms. Huda Abuaisha and Ms. Rawan Al Kandari – made a great impression with their participation and set the standard for future events. As we continue on our journey of growth and expansion, we aim to keep raising our standards and make our students and colleagues proud.
